The DELTA qualification is widely regarded as a prestigious and demanding qualification in the field of English language teaching. It opens up opportunities for teachers who are looking to advance their careers and deepen their understanding of teaching methodologies and approaches. It consists of three modules.

DELTA Module Two is one of the three modules that make up the DELTA qualification offered by Cambridge Assessment English. DELTA is a level 7, internationally recognised qualification for experienced English language teachers. It is designed for teachers who already have significant teaching experience and want to develop their skills and knowledge further.

Reasons for doing the course:

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Allows teachers to deepen their understanding of teaching methodologies, language analysis, and classroom management. The course exposes teachers to current language teaching methodologies and theories, helping them stay informed about the latest developments in the field.

CAREER ADVANCEMENT

Achieving the DELTA qualification, especially Module Two, can enhance career prospects. Many institutions and employers value DELTA as a mark of a teacher's commitment to professional growth and excellence.

REFLECTIVE PRACTICE

DELTA Module Two encourages teachers to engage in reflective practice, where they critically analyse their teaching methods and make improvements. This reflective aspect can lead to more effective teaching.

ENHANCED TEACHING SKILLS

The practical teaching component of DELTA Module Two, which includes observed lessons, helps teachers refine their teaching skills and receive constructive feedback from experienced assessors.

PERSONAL SATISFACTION

Successfully completing the DELTA qualification can be personally rewarding, providing a sense of accomplishment and validation for teachers who are dedicated to their profession.

*If you are not working, you can teach a class provided by Stafford House London.

Stafford House London houses its own dedicated Teacher Training centre
